

Pairing a new Bye Bye Standby Socket with a classic Bye Bye Standby Remote Control

1. Activate learning mode on your Bye Bye Standby socket.

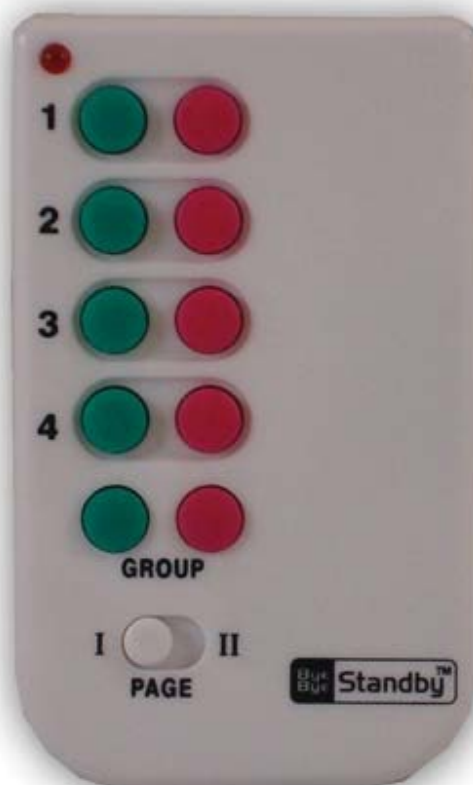

To put your Bye Bye Standby Socket into learning mode press the off button to ensure your socket is turned off; then hold the off button until the blue LED button flashes once per second

2. Pairing the devices

Simply press and hold either the green or red (on or off) button on the remote control for the channel that you wish to use to control the socket. The LED will flash for a second and then remain switched off. The devices have now been successfully paired.
